

Short Bio

Kia Stephens is the founder of Entrusted Women, which she created to equip Christian women communicators of color. A contributing writer for iBelieve.com, Proverbs 31 and Ministries she is a recurring speaker at She Speaks, the Beloved Women's Conference, and the Entrusted Women's Conference. She is also the host of the Hope for Women With Father Wounds Podcast. Kia published her first book "Overcoming Father Wounds" with Revell Books. When Kia is not writing or speaking she enjoys spending time with her family and friends.

Long Bio

Kia Stephens is the founder of Entrusted Women, which she created to equip Christian women communicators of color. A contributing writer for iBelieve.com, Proverbs 31 Ministries, and Crosswalk, she is a recurring speaker at She Speaks, the Beloved Women's Conference, and the Entrusted Women's Conference.

Kia has also been a featured guest on several podcasts including the Proverbs 31 Ministries Podcast, Java With Juli with Dr. Juli Slattery, The Alli Worthington Show, Better Together With Barb Roose, the Sister Circle With Chrystal Hurst, and the Captivating Podcast with Stasi Eldredge.

Kia is also the host of the Hope for Women With Father Wounds Podcast and she recently released her first book Overcoming Father Wounds. As a writer, speaker, and business owner Kia is passionate about encouraging the hearts of women one word at a time. She offers practical advice for writers, speakers, and ministry leaders at varying stages of their journey. When she is not writing or speaking, which she often calls her side-gig, she is working her full-time job as a wife of nearly 20 years and a mama to two teens.